

Desire for children and their proper upbringing

Sermon Delivered by Hadhrat
Mirza Masroor Ahmad (aba);
Head of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community

relayed live all across the globe

Summary

Desire for children and their proper upbringing

Huzur (aba) explained in his sermon today that many men and women write to Huzoor requesting prayers for their unborn child

There are clear guidelines and prayers for the moral training of children from even before their birth in the Holy Quran.

In order to partake in the revolution for which the Promised Messiah (as) was sent, we must pray to bring our children up in a manner that despite all of the filth and indecencies found in the society, we will not allow Satan to be victorious.

In order to safeguard our progeny from the evil influences of the time, it is necessary that both the husband and wife should act in a virtuous manner

The Quranic principle is that along with prayers the conduct of the mother and father plays a big part in the upbringing of children

Well being of children

Children

Many men and women write to Huzoor requesting prayers for their unborn child

At times, parents ask for guidance for their children who are getting closer to adolescence and adulthood.

State of the world

Prayers

By the Grace of Allah, the majority of the Community think in this manner and they are focused on how they should undertake the tarbiyyat (moral training) of their children.

This is a great blessing and favour of Allah the Almighty upon us Ahmadis that due to accepting the Promised Messiah (^{as}), where worldly desires have engulfed everyone, we are not only concerned about the worldly well-being of our children, rather, we also strive to care about the improvement of their faith.

Quranic Guidance

Children

Allah the Almighty has also bestowed this favour upon us Muslims —

State of
the world

There are clear guidelines for the moral training of children from even before their birth in the Holy Quran.

Prayers

The Holy Quran teaches prayers for this purpose.

Role of
parents

If we offer these supplications and spend our lives in this way and pay attention to the tarbiyyat of our children, then we can send forth a pious progeny

The daunting task

Children

There is no doubt that the tarbiyyat of children is not an easy affair and especially in this age, where at every turn attractions created by Satan entice us in various ways.

State of the world

A true believer is indeed expected that being attached to Allah the Almighty, he should save himself as well as his children from the onslaughts of Satan, instead of giving in to despair and negative feelings while being frightened.

A harrowing example of negative thinking, came before my eyes when a person wrote to me that given the prevalent immorality in the world today and the state of the general moral depravity, I would choose to not have children after I get married.

Prayers

Role of parents

This is an extremely pessimistic view. This is akin to accepting defeat from Satan, taking Satan as the final authority and acting as though Allah the Almighty has no power to save us and our children from the onslaughts of Satan, regardless of how much effort we exert and prayers we offer.

Children

In other words, this is like granting absolute freedom to the followers of Satan, leading to annihilation of the progeny of believers in due course.

Hence, this way of thinking is extremely disappointing and does not behove the followers of the Promised Messiah (as).

State of the world

In order to partake in the revolution for which the Promised Messiah (as) was sent to the world by Allah the Exalted, we must use our capabilities and faculties to the utmost and we must also infuse this spirit into our offspring.

Prayers

We must pray for our objectives and bring our children up [in a manner] so that despite all of the filth and indecencies found in the society, we will not allow Satan to be victorious, Insha'Allah [God willingly].

Role of parents

Thus, there is no need to be disheartened.

Rather, we must act in accordance with the prescribed path by Allah the Exalted with determination.

Prayers for children

Children

Allah the Exalted has taught us prayers in the Holy Qur'an to be blessed with virtuous offspring

State of
the world

This is the prayer of the Prophet Zachariah, 'My Lord, grant me from Thyself pure offspring; surely, Thou art the Hearer of prayer.'

Prayers

So, we should pray for virtuous progeny as well as act in a virtuous and pious manner, which are the characteristics of virtuous people and prophets.

Role of
parents

In order to safeguard our progeny from the evil influences of the time, it is necessary that both the husband and wife should act in a virtuous manner.

I was a non-Ahmadi, I did not practice faith, drank heavily and lived on bribes. I was invited to Ahmadiyyat by a friend. The Promised Messiah (as) prayed for a son for him provided he repented as Zachariah repented. Munshi Sahib says that I learnt that the repentance of Zachariah is to abstain from irreligiousness, earn lawfully, to regularly pray and fast and to visit the mosque more frequently.

He says that upon hearing this, I refrained from alcohol, I abstained from taking bribes and became regular in praying and fasting. He says that a period of approximately four or five months had passed when my wife (the eldest wife, he had three wives) showed signs of pregnancy. I told people that I will be blessed with a son, who will be healthy as well as beautiful. Accordingly, a son was born. He says that I pledged initiation following that and many other people from that area also pledged initiation

The prayer of Zachariah

Children

Remember, when we offer the prayer of Zachariah for our children, it is necessary for us to develop a pure change with ourselves as well.

State of the world

This was a special case of a man with virtuous potential, however, acceptance of Ahmadiyyat cannot be conditional to any desires or personal gains

Prayers

Becoming an Ahmadi on conditions is not [the definition of] accepting faith. Rather, it is forcing Allah the Exalted to accept our conditions.

We are required to follow His guidance, He is not bound to follow our desires.

Role of parents

Nevertheless, as I mentioned, whilst we pray for our children, we must also develop a pure change within ourselves

The prayer of Zachariah is mentioned in Surah Al Anbiya of the Holy Quran – My Lord, leave me not childless, and Thou art the Best of inheritors. (Al-Anbiya' 90).

Since God Almighty has been called the 'Best of Inheritors', it is clear from this prayer that one should not pray to be granted offspring that can become their heirs in their worldly affairs, but instead such heirs be granted from God Almighty who give preference to their faith over the world. The desire to have children is a legitimate desire, but on top of that one must also pray for pious heirs

The Promised Messiah as in one place states: "The trial surrounding children is a great trial indeed. If the children are righteous then why should one worry? God Almighty Himself states: God Himself becomes the Friend and Protector of the righteous

Then, in another place, whilst giving advice about children the Promised Messiah (as) states: “Become righteous yourselves and become an example of piety and righteousness for your children, and make efforts and pray to make them God-fearing and devout. .. The least one can do in training their children is to teach them about religion and for them to remain firm to their faith with the same effort they makes for them in worldly terms. ...”

Children

God Almighty has taught us in the Holy Quran:
And make my seed righteous for me. I do turn to Thee;
and, truly, I am of those who submit to Thee (Al-Ahqaf 16)

Here the prayer is for the reformation of children, and alongside it has been acknowledged that the individual will aspire to become among those who submit to and obey God Almighty

State of the world

Prayers

God Almighty has then taught us a very comprehensive prayer ;
‘Our Lord, grant us of our wives and children the delight of our eyes, and make us a model for the righteous. (Al-Furqan 75).

Hence, with every prayer, God Almighty has repeatedly advised us in the Holy Quran that we must watch over our deeds if we wish to have righteous offspring.

Role of
parents

The Promised Messiah (as) explains that the desire to have children should not be merely to leave an heir to this world, but to have an heir who can continue the pious deeds of their elders.

The Promised Messiah (as) states: ... one should also pay heed towards children's moral reformation. Allah the Almighty has created man so that he may worship Him, just as Allah the Almighty states: 'And I have not created the Jinn and the men but that they may worship Me.'

However, if one does not become a Momin [believer]; and does not devote himself to the servitude of God; and does not fulfil the true objective of his creation. ... 'Thus, until one does not desire for a progeny which is religious, full of piety and serves faith while displaying complete obedience to Allah the Almighty, such a desire is completely futile, in fact it is a form of sin.'

The Promised Messiah (as) further states: 'If a person states that he longs for a virtuous and pious progeny which shall serve faith (which indeed is a great desire to have), however this will merely be a claim unless he makes an effort to improve his own condition.' The Promised Messiah (as) states that moral training and prayers for this must be our top priority. 'My own condition is such that there is not a single prayer of mine in which I do not pray for my friends, children and wife.'

The Promised Messiah (as) further states about children making mistakes in early childhood: '... If they are not stopped in their childhood and guided with love during their early years then gradually they will increase in their ill actions.' In another place, the Promised Messiah (as) states: 'It is also important to teach them about their faith. It should not be the case that they are completely occupied in pursue of their secular education and worldly endeavours and thus parents do not pay any attention to teach them about their faith and nor make any arrangements for them to be taught. It is extremely important to teach them about their faith and their beliefs

Allah the Almighty states: ‘Our Lord, grant us of our wives and children the delight of our eyes, and make us a model for the righteous.’

This can only be possible when the parents themselves do not lead a life of disobedience and falsehood, in fact they lead a life like the servants of the Gracious God.

They give precedence to God over everything else

After this God Almighty has then further elaborated by saying ‘and make us a model for the righteous’.

Prayers

If one’s progeny is virtuous and righteous then surely, he must be their Imam [head].

Role of parents

Therefore, this is also a prayer for one to become righteous

i.e. one prays for himself to become righteous and prays that Allah the Almighty makes him tread upon the paths of righteousness and then this prayer includes the children also become righteous

Therefore, one should always desire for their

The parents of Waqfeen-e-

that they guide their

Nevertheless, as I have already mentioned, the parents of Waqfeen-a-Nau children should pay special attention towards the moral training of their children and they must pray for them to achieve this goal; for their children to grow up to serve the faith and give precedence to faith over all worldly pursuits

The Promised Messiah (as) stated: “perform those deeds which set the best and perfect example for your children.” This is the responsibility of the parents.

The Promised Messiah (as) further elaborates by saying: “That is why it is necessary to first reform oneself. If you become a righteous and temperate individual and strive to please God, then Allah the Almighty will always show benevolence to you and your offspring. In the Holy Quran, the incident of Khizr and Prophet Moses (as) is mentioned that together they constructed a wall belonging to a few orphaned children.

Referring to this God Almighty states: “their father had been a righteous man” The condition of the children themselves was not mentioned, rather the parents were mentioned. The Promised Messiah (as) elaborates by saying: “Therefore, always desire for your progeny to become pious, in return God Almighty will grant you the means and provisions for progress.

Thus, these are the fundamental principles towards which the Promised Messiah (as) advised us constantly

- This in fact is an elaboration of the Quranic principles, that the conduct of the mother and father plays a big part in the upbringing of children.
- May Allah the Almighty grant every single one of us to become the best example for our children. May we fulfil the pledge of giving precedence to our faith over all worldly objects. Instead of looking towards others to see what their condition is – as is the habit of some people – we should focus on ourselves. Only then will we be able to leave a pious progeny for the future that will tread the path of righteousness. May we constantly pray for our children, so that God Almighty makes them the delight of our eyes.
