Summary

Rightly Guided Caliphs – Hazrat Uthman (ra) & Launch of Chinese Website

Hazrat Khalifatul Masih V (aba) continued to highlight the qualities and personality of Hazrat Uthman (ra) and incidents from his life.

His Holiness (aba) narrated the virtues of modesty, simplicity and generosity of Hazrat Uthman (ra).

His service towards the compilation of the Holy Quran includes taking steps to ensure that it remained preserved in its original form, exactly as it had been revealed and that copies were made in the order set by the Holy Prophet (sa), in the original dialect.

His Holiness launched the new website of the Chinese Desk.

Modesty of Hazrat Uthman (ra)

The Holy Prophet (sa) said that Hazrat Uthman (ra) possessed the greatest level of modesty and humility from among his people.

It is narrated that once the Holy Prophet (sa) was laying down and resting in his home.

Hazrat Abu Bakr (ra) asked permission to enter and the Holy Prophet (sa) permitted him, whilst he was still lying down.

Similarly, Hazrat Umar (ra) asked permission to enter and the Holy Prophet (sa) permitted him, whilst still lying down.

When Hazrat Uthman (ra) asked permission to enter, the Holy Prophet (sa) sat up and adjusted his clothes.

Later, when asked why he had done so the Holy Prophet (sa) replied that he showed modesty before the same person in whose presence the angels also show modesty.

Simplicity of Hazrat Uthman (ra)

His Holiness (aba) said regarding the simplicity of Hazrat Uthman (ra), that he would arrange water for ablution at night by himself.

When asked why he did not have one of his workers arrange the water, Hazrat Uthman (ra) replied that the workers should be given time to rest at night.

Hazrat Uthman (ra) said that since he had accepted Islam, there was not a single Friday on which he did not free a slave.

The only time he would not free a slave on a Friday was when there were no slaves to be freed. In that case, he would free a slave on a different day of the week.

It is also recorded that during the time when his home was under siege, Hazrat Uthman (ra) freed 20 slaves.

Generosity of Hazrat Uthman (ra)

Once during a battle, the Muslims were extremely hungry and did not have any food.

The Holy Prophet (sa) told them that by sundown, they would have something to eat.

Upon hearing this, Hazrat Uthman (ra) sent nine camels to the Holy Prophet (sa).

When the Holy Prophet (sa) was informed that they had been sent to him as a gift by Hazrat Uthman (ra). The Holy Prophet (sa) raised his hands and prayed for Hazrat Uthman (ra).

Hazrat Uthman (ra) wrote to her, requesting for those transcripts so that copies could be made, and then he would return the original copies to her.

Hazrat Uthman (ra) gathered the senior companions from the Quraish, and instructed them to make copies of the Holy Qur'an, in the dialect of the Quraish

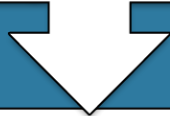

As that was the dialect in which it was revealed; and that it should be kept in the same order as set by the Holy Prophet (sa).

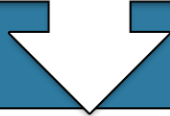

Thus, the Holy Qur'an remained preserved in its original form, exactly as it had been revealed to the Holy Prophet (sa).

Compilation of the Holy Qur'an

His Holiness (aba) explained that before it had been permissible for the Holy Qur'an to be recited in different dialects as many people would not be able to understand the original dialect.

Thus, in order for it to be more accessible and easily understood, this was permissible.

However, by the time of the Caliphate of Hazrat Uthman (ra), Madinah had become the centre of Arabia, and tribes who had once been far and divided were now united and often met.

In this manner, the original dialect became more widespread and understood by most.

Compilation of the Holy Qur'an

Thus, the initial allowance of recitation in different dialects which was based on the situation at the time, was no longer needed.

Therefore, in order to ensure that the text remained exactly as it was revealed, including the dialect in which it was revealed, Hazrat Uthman (ra) took this step and ensured that copies made were in the original dialect.

Launch of Chinese Desk Website

His Holiness said that after the prayers, he would be launching the new website of the Chinese Desk.

This website was created with the help of the central IT team.

Through this website, people will be able to access information about Ahmadiyyat, the true Islam in the Chinese language.

The website can be accessed through the Community's main website alislam.org and can also be accessed separately on its own.

The website consists of various content spanning different topics.

The new edition of the Chinese translation of the Holy Qur'an can also be accessed on this website.
